Supreme Judicial Court.

The Grand Jury came in Tuesday afternoon. Considerable business had been brought before the jury and seven indictments were reported.

One against Stephen G. Packard, embezzlement; William Hilliard, rape; Edgar D. Wing, Lucy A. Royal and William Johnson, adultery; Elbridge G. Linscott, and William Brooks common sellers; and Stephen T. Jewett obtaining goods under false pretences. This was the whole gist.

Hilliard, Wing and Mrs. Royal have been arraigned and plead not guilty. Their cases will be tried this term. William Johnson plead guilty.

The case of Buckman vs. Heald was tried. The jury found a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $48.50. This is for money and services rendered Heald by plaintiff when they were in the butchering business in Summer. The partnership affairs are unadjusted. Foster & Herrick. Swasey.

The next case was that of Daniel A. Robbins vs. John M. Babb for the recovery of pay for carrying on his father-in-law's farm and money paid out. Babb is the father-in-law and claims that the plaintiff took the farm "on halves." The jury allowed the plaintiff $25.70.

The cutting timber case of Hiram Everett vs. Benj. Conant resulted in a verdict of $13.00 for the plaintiff. Herrick. Wing & Wing.

The case of Granville L. Reed vs. A. W. Farnace & Son was tried Monday. It was an action to recover pay for a hog sold the defendants some time ago. The defendants claimed that the hog was bad or diseased, and there was no reason in his paying for it. The jury found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $30 and a little more. Holt. Beanco.

Andover.

Most of the hog growers have sold their new crop realizing 50 cents per pound.

Messrs. Dresser & Eaton recently slaughtered a lamb that dressed 57½ pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barbour of Framingham, Mass., are visiting at E. E. Merrill's.

The Cong. clerk resigned last week. A new one has been selected.

With four horses, L. M. Hewey hauled a load weighing 8½ tons from Bethel, a distance of 25 miles one day last week.

Sweden.

Orchards exposed to the north wind of week before last have plenty of apples on the ground, but few on the trees. And nearly all the windward parts of the trees look as though the pickers had been there and done their work fully.

The sweet corn crop proved better than was expected, although not an average one. Part of it went to Bridgton and part to Harrison. The sweet corn business is a fair one for the farmer, as the fodder is excellent for stock, cows especially; and much more ground would be planted here if the people could feel sure of their pay every year, but they do not have confidence to risk much.

A petition for a town vote from the residence of Charles Whitehouse, westerly to Lovell and Sweden town line is in the hands of the selectmen, and they have given notice of their intention to view the route and lay out the road if they believe, after examination, public good demands it. The ground over which the road is to be laid was once, and for many years a highway, and was thought to have been discontinued, as it has caused much inconvenience, and now some damage must be paid to open the road again, as the land has changed owners since the discontinuation.

Mrs. John Bennett has returned home, having been at her old home in N. H. several weeks with her sick father.

Joseph N. Adams is now at home sick with a fever. He was a student at Bridgton Academy when first attacked, but was able to get home before he was brought down. He is attended by Dr. C. L. Wilson.

Bolster's Mills.

Dr. S. L. Weston has finished his apple evaporator, and has commenced work in the same. He employs several hands at his factory.

O. V. Edwards has erected a large building for a shop opposite the "Star and Mansion," on the lot adjoining Mr. Hancock's store, and has the outside board up. The shop is fifty feet in length and two stories high.

Rev. Mr. Twort delivered an illustrated sermon at this place two weeks since, and on Thursday evening of this week he gave another. They are very interesting.

Granville N. Buck of South Harrison, a graduate of Bridgton Academy, has gone to Michigan to attend a law school.

The fall term of school in the "swamp district" in Oisfield commenced last Monday. Miss Irene B. Dorman of this place, teacher.

Most of the farmers in this vicinity have finished picking their beans and corn for canning. The crop of corn is better than was anticipated, being about two-thirds of the average yield. The bean crop will be less than one-half the usual crop.

The recent rains have given vegetation a fresh start, and there is now a fair prospect for good fall feed for stock.

Paris Hill.

The Democrat says: Eli B. Bean of Brownfield was in town last week. J. W. Davis, dentist, who has spent several days in Paris, each month, for some time, reports that he has done quite an amount of dental work. He has now leased an office over the Savings Bank, So. Paris, and will be there three weeks of every month. The returning week he will spend in various towns in the vicinity.

Mr. E. B. Rawson, son of the late Judge Rawson of Rumford, was in town, attending Court last week. Mr. Rawson spends his summers at Rumford and his winters at Brooklyn, N. Y. One of the smart old ladies of this village is Mrs. Lucretia Jackson. She is in her eighty-third year, and last week completed a rug, making 129 which she has made in all. She was less than two weeks making her last one, which is of good size, and is as firm and handsome a rug as anyone could wish to have. Not many ladies of her age are able to do as much.

The Bridgton News says: About two weeks since, Mr. F. E. North, of Chatham, Mass., who with his wife and Dr. E. Hamlin and wife, have been boarding with Mrs. C. Houghton, desired to obtain a view of the cleft in Bear Mountain. Accordingly, the party, consisting of Mr. North, Dr. Hamlin and Mr. Kimball, started for the cleft, about half-way up the ascent, and by climbing to the mountain top, after a two hours' fierce struggle, reached the top—a feat which seldom if ever before has been accomplished. The parties most interested seemed to take satisfaction in the affair after its conclusion, but said there was no document which could be offered that would tempt them to undertake the rash and perilous trip. Mr. North is a fine artist and took many fine views of the beautiful scenery in Waterford. He also photographed the tomb-stone of Artemus Ward. Mr. Roberts and wife (Neil Mellett) of Boston, are guests of W. W. Watson, Esq., Waterford. Manderville F. Corson has moved from Lawrence, Mass., back to Andover, Me., where he is teaching school. Rev. L. W. Raymond has tendered his resignation as pastor of the F. Baptist Church at the Village. It is to be considered if the society will be able to make arrangements to induce him to remain with them. Dr. A. W. Taylor, the Harrison dentist, will be away, on a visit to his old home in Peru, Me.—A School also, and many nine base-balled at North Bridgton Wednesday afternoon—Fred F. Emery, scorer. Nine innings; 15 to 10 in favor of High School.

School.—The school at Bolster's Mills has begun under the charge of Miss Julia M. Whitehouse of Sweden, with Miss Lila Whitehouse for assistant. Miss Charles of Lovell is again teaching at the Village, and Miss Lillian Libby of Waterford, is teaching in South Harrison. Miss Lizzie Green is to teach in the Woodsman district, Mrs. Woodman in the Kneeland, and Miss Cornelia Caswell in the Brackett.

Mrs. Livermore calls attention to the fact that women don't go marching around in torchlight processions, and she says she has never seen them parading by daylight, clad in abbreviated aprons, ornamented to the shoulders in what seemed exaggerated horse-collars, their heads supporting an immense amount of "fuss and feathers," and their padded coats over their swelling bosoms nearly bursting with ecstatic delight. If there is any pie left in the cupboard, Mrs. Livermore is entitled to a slice.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A real estate dealer advertises in a Dakota newspaper: "I can be found out," at Mitchell's, Fowler's, or at the age of 'old horses,' with Brown, or at my residence on Oak street, perusing the Scriptures."

A New Jersey snake entered a cabin organ that had been toted into the home, having been at her old home in N. H. several weeks with her sick father.

Dass.—The Journal says that black bass may be taken 'with a single-baited hook up to next April.

DOMESTIC RECIPES.

STRAW PEACHES.—For ten pounds of peaches use five pounds of light brown sugar and a pint of vinegar; boil the vinegar and sugar with four blades of mace and quarter of an ounce of stick cinnamon for fifteen minutes, skimming it if it does not skim. The peaches, which should be ripe but not over-soft, may be peeled and cut in halves or left whole; when the syrup of sugar and vinegar has boiled fifteen minutes, put it into a large bowl, and lay the peaches in it, and let them stand until they are clear; then remove them from the syrup with a skimmer, and put in others; when all the peaches are done put them in glass jars, boil the syrup until it is clear, then pour it over the peaches, and let it cool; put a piece of paper wet in brandy in each jar before sealing it; or pour the jar full of scalding hot syrup, and close it up, making it six-eight.

POACHED PEACHES.—Choose perfectly sound peaches of medium size; brush them all over with a soft brush. Boil together six quarts of water and a pint of coarse salt, and skim it until it is clear; then add the quantity of vinegar increased or diminished to suit the quantity of peaches; but this proportion of salt and water must be observed. When the brine is cold, put the peaches in it, and let them stand forty-eight hours. Then remove them from the brine, wash them on a soft towel, and stick half a dozen cloves in each one. Boil and skim till clear as much vinegar as will well cover the quantity.

Use sufficient oil to make them shine, allowing for each quart of vinegar four blades of mace and quarter of an ounce of stick cinnamon; when the vinegar has boiled about fifteen minutes put in the peaches, and remove the scum, and a kettle containing them to the back of the fire, where its contents will not boil; let the peaches stand in the hot vinegar for five minutes, and then put two tablespoons of vinegar in each jar into glass jars, and seal them air-tight.

PEACH MANICOTTES.—Prepare a brine as directed in the recipe for pickled peaches; choose fresh, sound peaches, brush them with a soft brush, and lay them in the brine for three days. Then remove them from the brine, cut a piece out of the top of each one, and take out the stone without enlarging the top; for two dozen large peaches mix together two pounds of brown sugar, one ounce and a half of cloves, and a half ounce of ground cloves, mace, turmeric. Use sufficient oil to make them shine. Ingredients. Fill the peaches with them; close the cut with a piece of peach, and either sew or tie it in place. Put the stuffed peaches into glass jars, cover them with cold vinegar, pour two tablespoons of vinegar in each jar, and seal them air-tight.

CORN HUSKED BY A CYCLOPE.—A Georgia paper says: "It is an ill wind that blows nobody good" was verified in the experience of a Santa Cruz County farmer, who says that all the ears of corn that were pointing in the direction of the wind came from on Saturday night were already shucked when he got up on Sunday morning. The wind had blown the shucks back, leaving the ears exposed.

A REFUSAL.—The farmers of Nairnshire, in Scotland, have been greatly annoyed by rooks and wild pigeons, and early in the season formed an association for their destruction. In order to pay the cost of killing the birds they have agreed to give 6s. 6d. per pair, and then offered rewards of a penny per head for rooks and three farthings for pigeons. It is estimated that some 4,000 rooks and 1,000 pigeons have been destroyed by the gamekeepers of Nairnshire.

Woman and Her Diseases.—This is the title of a large and valuable treatise, by Dr. W. P. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., sent to any address for three stamps. It teaches successful treatment of all diseases.

He only is a well-made man who has a good digestion. Emerson.

Unhealthy or inactive kidneys cause gravel, rheumatism, dropsy, and a host of other serious and fatal diseases, which can be prevented with Rook Bitters, taken in time.
